President's Message

Shipmates, we are getting closer to our scheduled reunion in Nashville, Tennessee, only a little over four months, and one more Newsletter to go. Even though Nashville was hit hard by the floodwaters, the updates we are getting tell us that the prognosis is good. Our planner is in touch with all the venues, and we only have two that are questionable at this time. All others assure us that they will be up- to-speed before the dates of our reunion arrive. Our planner has assured us that if changes are needed they will go seamlessly. Make your plans and reservations as soon as possible, and plan on having a good time. Hell, even if we ended up being locked up in the hotel, we could still drink and tell lies (I mean sea stories). Don't let it detour you from coming.

I want to again thank everyone for the support the Association has received, and the officers and crew for all their hard work. I would like to remind everyone to shop at the ship's store and to contact me if you are interested in one of the ship's medallion plaques. Each of the items are high quality, and the prices are great.

On a personal note, I will be having back surgery on the 19th of July. It is going to be rather severe, so only time will tell if I am able to make it to the reunion. If I had known I was going to live this long, I would have taken better care of my self. Looking back, jumping out of perfectly good aircraft, riding bareback and saddle broncs, and driving trucks for 32 years might not have been such a good idea. Oh well, it felt good at the time. I will update everyone in the next newsletter, and I should know how everything is going by then. God's speed and fair winds to you all.

Vice President's Message

One of the great things about being the Vice President is that in my message I can just sort of ramble on as the President has taken care of all the important business in what he has included in his message to the crew.

Emmon Rogers in his e-mail to me noted that he wanted my input as he was shooting for his mailing before the Memorial Day weekend. The mention of Memorial Day, as well as my spending the last ten weeks watching "The Pacific" on HBO reminded me that 65 years ago from early April until the middle of June 1945, our first crew and the "Maggie" were participating in the last great battle of World War II. They were also earning the ship's first battle star. From all of us that later served aboard this fine ship, our deepest thanks and respect to all you who served during the Second World War.

On a somewhat more personal note, and because I won't see everyone at the reunion in October, I need to express my thanks to some special crewmembers. Since 1982 I have been a collector of police patches from around the nation and the world. Over the years many of you have been kind enough to assist me, and the collection has grown and been displayed at the Escondido Police Department.

In early May our city dedicated a new police-fire-facility and it was my honor to present to the department its newest board of police shoulder patches. This will be the 17th board on display that now includes a total of 925 patches. Thanks to all those crewmembers for their contributions over the years.

Finally, a reminder that's mostly for those who may be attending the reunion for the first time: Please remember to bring items for the Morehead State Scholarship auction.

Doris and I look forward to seeing everyone in Nashville in October.

Mike Stein
Vice President

We'll start with the music of country legends like Hank Williams, Patsy Cline and other icons of the Grand Ole Opry. We'll explore the hits of the 90's from Garth Brooks, Reba McEntire and Dolly Parton. And finally, we'll enjoy the blockbuster hits of country music today through the music of Carrie Underwood and Rascal Flatts. Friday, October 15, 2010

8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Civil War Tour – Battle of the South $64.00 All Inclusive

You will be on your "Way Down South in Dixie" as we load up and head for a quaint southern town of Franklin where we will visit Carnton Plantation...the home of John and Carrie McGavock. They were forever changed as their home turned into the largest Confederate field hospital during the Battle of Franklin. There you will walk about the grounds, battlefield, and stroll through a small but authentic military cemetery of the soldiers that fell on this day, November 30, 1864. Then, we will take a short trip over to the Carter House, home of Fountain Branch Carter. It was caught in the middle of one of the bloodiest battles of the American Civil War. Evidence of over 1,000 bullet holes remain on site including the most damaged building from the Civil War. The Battle of Franklin was a turning point in a decisive campaign and saw the beginning of the downfall of the Confederacy.

Hungry yet? Let's head on over to the Factory and eat at the sassy but cool restaurant ... Sapphires. We will spend a little time there as there is more shopping to do at the Factory. It is home to a collection of stores offering a delightful array of antique stores, artwork, gifts, bath, body...and more. It is an experience like none other in Middle Tennessee. Built in 1929, the sprawling complex was bought seven years ago and after an environmental cleanup, the facility opened. Today, The Factory at Franklin is home to 83 tenants.

6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Country Western Ho-Down and BBQ Dinner $73.00 All Inclusive

Bring your cowboy hat and kerchief...and get ready to 'shake a leg'!
